Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

In today's culture and society, it is easy to find people with whom we disagree. The hate and mean-spiritedness that is sometimes cultivated online, especially on social media platforms, can make it seem as though we have many enemies. It can seem as though there are many people with whom we could never agree. The anonymity of social media emboldens many people to post outrageous notions, possibly even ideas with which one does not completely agree. Enemies seem to be all around us, and so listening to Jesus' teachings in today's Gospel can be incredible challenge to us in our world today. Think of those with whom you struggle, those with whom you disagree, now consider turning the other cheek, allowing them to continue to aggravate or intimidate you. This is not a challenge that is easy to accept. Of course, it is wise and healthy to remove ourselves from situations in which we feel attacked or in situations that might tempt us to react in anger and sin. Still, in taking those precautionary measures, it is important to keep Jesus' message from today's Gospel in mind. Jesus reminds us that he came to preach the Gospel of God's love to all. God does not discriminate or intimidate. God's love extends to all people, even those who spew hatred and vitriol. Jesus continues to remind his disciples that while it is good and noble to love your neighbors and to love those who love you in return, it is a more perfect kind of love if we can extend our care and love to our enemies. You might think that you do not have any enemies; however, there are likely people with whom you have experienced some difficulties. Maybe there is someone in your life who has treated you poorly, someone who has hurt you deeply. How can you change your hearts so that you can extend love to that person as well? Prayer can be a powerful tool when wanting to soften your heart toward another person. Perhaps you can pray for that other person who has treated you badly. The last thing we hear from Jesus in the Gospel reading today is a huge charge given to us by Jesus: "So be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect." Talk about impossible! We cannot be perfect and Jesus knows this. However, he seems to be continuing to challenge us to fidelity in following his way. He knows that there is great difficulty in loving to this extent that he describes. He uses the impossible standard of perfection to keep his disciples on the path, to keep us striving to do better, love more, forgive more, and so much more. We can only be this kind of disciple with God's help.

If you would like to add to any of our Holy Family Memorials "In Memory of" or "In honor of" your loved ones, forms are available in the church & Rectory.

Small Faith Sharing Groups

For 7 years, our parish has been involved in Arise/Why Catholic. These small groups are faith sharing groups in parishioner's homes. We will be starting a new phase of small groups based on the Sunday Bible readings. If you would like to be a part of this, please leave your name, phone number and email address in the rectory.

Holy Family Society

We are encouraging families to join our Holy Family Society Requirements:

- Come to Mass (ideally every Sunday) but at lest once a month
- Say a Rosary at home once a month
- Have a picture of the Holy Family in your home
- Do one thing a year to help the poor
- Come to a Retreat Day
- Take the parish Holy Family Society Statue once and keep it for a week to pray

If you are interested, see the flyers at the back of church or see Fr. Mike or Melissa Wagner.

On behalf of Father Ben Chinnappan, Dalit Solidarity, Monsignor Grimaldi and my family, I would like to express our sincere gratitude for welcoming Father Ben into our Parish and for the generous donations received this past weekend at church. The money received continues to help fund the grotto, school, boarding home and necessary transportation for the children in the parish of St. Therese of the Child Jesus in Kakkanour, India. Through the dedication of Deacon Jim Stahlnecker and the guidance of our Blessed Mother, this was all built and established in memory of my daughter, Kaitlyn Rose Bernhardt. Dalit, Christian children are now afforded an education, with transportation or a place to stay while learning, allowing endless possibilities that normally would have been extremely hard to accomplish. We are forever grateful for this wonderful miracle and that the legacy of Kaitlyn Rose lives on as she continues to make a difference in our world. Please feel free to read about her unceasing journey through God at www.sweetkaitlynrose.com

Sincerely, Jennifer Bernhardt

National Family Day

Dedication to family is an important part of everyday life, of course! But sometimes, it can be good to take a day off from all of the other pressures in life and enjoy a day out as a family.

National Love Your Pet Day!

Pets can offer unconditional love and help to make a home feel more welcoming and inviting. It's only appropriate that owners take the time to show appreciation for them by celebrating National Love Your Pet Day.

Stewardship Thought

"But I say to you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you…"MATTHEW 5:44

Love your enemies, easier said than done. But, remember, the foundation of stewardship is prayer. When we are in close communication with God, it opens our heart and it turns our attention away from "me" and moves it towards God and others. It changes my heart and actions, allowing for a little more empathy for "my enemy." When we pray for others, even our enemies, it may soften their hearts as well.
