Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Sixth Sunday of Easter

This week we continue to hear from Jesus' teaching at the Last Supper. Again, though, they are quite appropriate to hear in this season of resurrection. We know that Jesus will not remain with the disciples, even after his resurrection. His message we hear today is to remind them to continue to keep the commandments, to love God and to love their neighbor. Jesus does not want the disciples to lose sight of the most important tenets of the faith which he has taught them through his words and actions. They are about to go through a very traumatic experience, witnessing Jesus' trial and crucifixion. In the midst of al of that, it would be easy to forget or lose sight of Jesus' message. The same could be applied to the time when Jesus will ascend to the Father and leave the disciples. Though that is not a traumatic event like the crucifixion was, it was still a change in circumstance for the disciples. We can relate to the experience of forgetting a lesson a month or two after we have taken a test. Other things capture our attention and we categorize the information as "not needed" anymore. If we play a sport or an instrument, we can sometimes get into a lull and not practice as regularly. In a way, Jesus begins this discourse with a reminder to the disciples to stay vigilant and continue to follow the way, even if Jesus is not there to guide them and help them. Christ's commands are the "basics"- like in sports or music there is a certain set of foundational skills you need to keep practicing because they prepare you for the more advanced challenges to come. Jesus assures the disciples that he will not leave them "orphans." He will not leave them alone in this task of keeping his commandments ad practicing them on a daily basis. Jesus is priming the disciples for the experience of Pentecost, which is just a short time away in our current liturgical year. Jesus promises to send the disciples an "Advocate," the Holy Spirit. We believe in a triune God, three persons, one God. The Holy Spirit is the third person of the Trinity. An advocate supports, defends, and promotes the interests of a cause or a group. The Holy Spirit serves as a source of support to the disciples and also to use. For those of us who have been confirmed, or are preparing for the sacrament of confirmation, we know that we are strengthened by the gifts of the Holy Spirit at this sacrament. We have already received the gift of the Spirit in baptism, but in confirmation, the Holy Spirit comes to us in a particular way to strengthen us to continue our Christian life. The gifts of the Holy Spirit are wisdom, Knowledge, understanding, fortitude (courage), counsel (right judgment), fear of the Lord (wonder and awe), and piety (reverence). These gifts of the Spirit are important in our tradition because they help us to live the Christian life. It can be difficult, and we need the support of the Holy Spirit, just as the disciples did all those years ago. Even though Jesus will be leaving the disciples, he also promises them that he will live on in them. We need to hear this message as well. Sometimes, we feel far from Jesus or from God, and Jesus reminds us that he lives within us. We are Christ's body here on earth; we are called to be Christ's hands, feet, eyes, and ears here on earth. That means that in all that we do, the way in which we act toward others, we are Christ's emissaries; we bring the love and compassion of Christ to those around us.

Stewardship Thought

On this sixth Sunday of Easter, our readings remind us that God must come first in our lives, and that love of God shows itself in concrete actions — this is precisely why the stewardship way of life is so necessary. Our second reading, from St. Peter, challenges us to, "Sanctify Christ as Lord in your hearts." In other words, we are to put Christ first above all else in our lives. His role is not merely as Savior of our lives, as significant as that role is — He is to be "Lord" of our lives as well. As His disciples, we are called to make Him ruler of all aspects of our lives — our time, talent, and treasure. The beauty of the stewardship way of life is that it offers us a concrete means to show that Christ truly is Lord of our lives, to "prove" our love, in a manner of speaking, because true love is not a mere sentiment. "Whoever has my commandments and observes them is the one who loves me," Jesus tells us in our Gospel passage from John. True love is an act of the will. It requires obedience to all of God's commandments. This requires courage, humility, and deep trust in Him. But the rewards of this kind of love are indescribably wonderful. Christ tells us Himself, "Whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and reveal myself to him." Could there be anything more satisfying to live in such a way that the God of the universe is pleased to reveal more and more of Himself to us?

At this time of the year we celebrate many special occasions.
First Communions, Mother's Day,
Father's Day, Graduations, Memorial Day.
In the church we celebrate Ordination Anniversaries.
Here at St. Bernard we celebrate the clergy of our parish.
