Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Seventh Sunday of Easter

In many ways, what we hear today is Jesus' farewell speech, though it is in the form of a prayer to the Father. He has accomplished all that he was sent to do. He has glorified God, he has performed miracles that point to the majesty of God, and he gathered people to be his followers. It appears that his many tasks on earth have been completed, and he is ready for all that will follow with his death, resurrection, and ascension. He is ready to be reunited with God in heaven because his work is complete. Jesus uses an important word in this discourse. He speaks of how he came to "reveal" the name of God to the world. The Catholic Church emphasizes the notion of revelation, that the nature of God is revealed to us through Scripture, both Old Testament and New testament. Nd, of course, that Jesus is also the revelation of God, the Word made flesh and God as man living among us. Jesus is recounting all of the connections, all of the overlap- you gave to me, and I give to you, and so on. It is clear that God sent Jesus for a specific mission, and that mission is now completed, and so it is time for them to be reunited. Jesus' leaving has an impact on the disciples. This prayer helps to lay a foundation for the vision of the early Church. There is a focus on unity among the disciples and a focus on the missionary spirit of the Church. This knowledge of Jesus and belief in him is not supposed to be kept secret. The disciples are charged with spreading the Good News and all that hey have learned about God because they are the ones that remain on earth. Jesus' leaving has an impact on us. We must not forget that Jesus is still present with us; he lives in our hearts and we are his emissaries to the world. We being the love and compassion that he embodied to all we encounter. It is important to remember that Jess was emphasizing that though he had to leave the disciples, his spirit still lived on in his disciples, and it also lives on in each one of us.

Stewardship Thought

"I am praying for them…" JOHN 17:9

Prayer is the foundation of our Faith and the foundation of Stewardship. Prayer is always the first best option in any situation - not just our last resort. Pray for friends and family, especially those who don't treat you very well. Pray to praise, thank, and ask God for help. Pray to see what God wants you to do with the gifts He has given you. Teach others how to pray. It has been said that teaching someone how to pray is the best gift you can give someone.

Diocesan Youth Choir

Under the initiative and leadership of Fr. James Kuroly and Fr. Alonzo Cox, along with Lucia Morales, Michael Fontana has been asked to begin the formation process a new diocesan music ministry in hopes to better serve the liturgical and spiritual needs of the youth of our diocese. DOBYouth Choir will be geared towards the young adults, ages 15-21 who are interested in participating in a music ministry with music leaning more towards the "Praise & Worship" style of sacred music, but will also incorporate a nice mix of all types of sacred music. At this point in the formation stage, we are reaching out to see if there is an interest for this ministry amongst the young people. If you are a young adult age 15 ~ 21 and are interested or know of anyone in the age range of 15 ~ 21 who would be interested in joining this new ministry, please send name and information to Michael Fontana @ the following email address: DOBYouthChoir@gmail.com.
