Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Up to this point, Jesus has been active in his ministry, teaching and healing, drawing huge crowds wherever he goes. But something happens when he sees the people; he sees the depth of their needs with loving compassion. Today, comparing people to sheep has the negative connotation of blindly following without thinking. In biblical times, it was common knowledge that sheep relied upon the guidance and protection of a responsible shepherd. Seeing so many who were lost, troubled, and abandoned deeply bothered Jesus. Comparing them to "sheep without a shepherd" identifies the problem: a lack of responsible leadership leaves an abundance of lost souls yearning for spiritual healing and guidance. The solution: first, Jesus asks his disciples- all of us- to pray that God send more spiritual leaders for his people. We tend to use the words disciple and apostle interchangeably, but the Gospels do not because each word signified something different. Disciples commit to learning from a master-teacher to put that knowledge into practice. In Greek, the word apostle means "the person who is sent." The only time the Gospel of Matthew uses the word apostle instead of disciple occurs in today's passage. So face with the problem of needing good leaders to care for the spiritual needs of the people, Jesus prays. The solution here is to call forth twelve, and send those apostles out with the authority to continue the mission of shepherding God's people to the kingdom of heaven. This is a huge ongoing task that continues today, guided by the Holy Spirit. This is what is meant by apostolic succession: the apostles passed on the responsibility to continue this mission to their successors, the bishop, who are assisted by priests and deacons. Notice that Jesus doesn't ask for volunteers or put up a sign-up sheet. He calls them. Spiritual leadership is calling, or vocation. Priests and bishops certainly have a special role, but we are all called to serve God in the world in one of four vocations: priesthood, religious life, married life, or single life. Within those vocations we work to fulfill the call we all receive as baptized children of God: to share the Good News. Wondering where God is calling you? Start with prayer.

Thank you so much for your payers and love you showed me for the two years we have been together at St. Bernard. I truly appreciate your time, friendship and the opportunity you gave me to move way up; from seminarian to transitional deacon, and finally achieving my goal of becoming a priest.
I enjoyed most of all your faith, love, charity and how you made me part of your community. I have had fun getting to know you better and I have learned so much from interacting with you at different aspects: prayer groups and different social activities/events.
You are a GODSEND in my life, your heartfelt prayers, support, and gifts means so much to me. I am also so grateful to have had the chance to be close to many of you. Continue to keep me in your prayers and I also promise you, my prayers and you will be always in my thoughts. Thank you so very much once again.
Fr. Samuel

This weekend's second collection is a Parish Collection for Air Conditioning.
Thank you always for your generosity! It is greatly appreciated!

Not for Operation Backpack!
Thousands of school-age children in New York City are homeless and one of the most devastating consequences of homelessness is the impact it can have on a child's education. Frequent school transfers and the stigma associated with living in a shelter add up to great hardship for these children.
Saint Bernard Parish will be participating this year to help thousands of homeless children on their first day of classes.
We will have a collection box in the vestibule of the Church in the coming weeks.
Won't you please consider donating a new backpack?
We will not be collecting school supplies

Stewardship Thought

The readings for the 11th Sunday in Ordinary Time provide us with profound insights into the essential aspects of living the stewardship way of life on our Christian journey. In the first reading from Exodus, we witness the encounter between God and His chosen people at Mount Sinai. The Lord, through Moses, reminds the Israelites of His faithfulness and the covenant He has established with them. This reminds us of our vocation as stewards and disciples. They invite us to embrace the call to stewardship by recognizing our responsibility to care for God's creation and to generously share our gifts with others. In our second reading from Romans, St. Paul beautifully articulates the depths of God's love for humanity. He reminds us that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us, reconciling us with God and offering us the gift of salvation. As stewards, we are called to gratefully recognize God's abundant love and respond by using our gifts and resources to build His kingdom. In our stewardship and discipleship, we discover the joy of participating in God's redemptive work, bringing hope and healing to a broken world. The Gospel reading from Matthew recounts how Jesus is moved with compassion as He sees the crowds who are like sheep without a shepherd. He commissions His disciples, empowering them to continue His mission of healing and preaching the Kingdom of God. Like the Good Shepherd, we are called to have hearts filled with empathy and concern for those who are lost, suffering, or in need. Stewardship challenges us to extend a helping hand, offer comfort, and meet the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of our brothers and sisters in Christ. By living a life of stewardship and discipleship, we are challenged to move beyond our comfort zones, embracing the call to serve and witness to the transformative power of Christ's love. This requires a willingness to step out in faith, be empowered by the Holy Spirit, and to be instruments of God's grace and healing.
