Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The stories of great athletes oftentimes focus on their accomplishments, their records, the number of awards they win, and even maybe how much money they make. Rarely are we told as quickly about their struggles, their moments of feeling distracted or defeated, or the sacrifices they or their loved ones made to help them be successful. When we hear these stories of struggle, though, we are inspired because those athletes have shared stories of how sometimes their most successful moments were the obstacles they had to overcome to get to their current status. For example, Michael Jordan, the famous basketball player for the Chicago Bulls, has noted that he has missed more basketball shots than he has made and he noted that the obstacles he faced drove him to the success he achieved. Our life of discipleship is an ongoing story of overcoming challenges and remaining steadfast in faith. Jesus is our primary model for this. Just because he is our savior, doesn't mean he didn't feel pain and suffering; in fact, because he is our Savior, he experienced the greatest of all sufferings and rose triumphant against them. His entire life is a model for us to follow. He knew that his followers would face rejection and persecution for his sake, but he gives us comfort because he has experienced this as well and we can identify with him in these times. Today we hear Jesus telling the disciples that he must go to Jerusalem to suffer, be killed, and rise on the third day. Peter quickly cries out that he should not have to suffer, while losing focus on the last point, that Jesus will rise. Jesus, just as quick, notes that Peter is behaving as Satan and that he needs to step aside. Peter is trying to understand but is struggling. He can't see past the suffering. This may seem like a harsh rebuke from Jesus, but that is what is really happening when we turn away from God and only trust in what we can control or figure out ourselves. Jesus goes on to teach the disciples that whoever holds onto the easy and convenient way of our lives will lose the most precious gift we are given: our adoption as brothers and sisters in Christ. For whatever we are unwilling to sacrifice for the love of God will become those things that hold us back from having a true relationship with Jesus. Those obstacles will keep us from feeling the complete mercy, love, and joy that Jesus alludes to in our Gospel today. When we have the courage to accept the challenges that come and rely on where Jesus is leading us, we reestablish our faith in God. We know that God loves us so much that he died for us; relying on this truth will help us overcome anything so that we can continue our journey to eternal life with him. The difficulties in our lives do not define us but rather propel us for greatness in faith and oneness with Christ. Peter will learn this later in his faith journey. Jesus knows this will take time for them and, while honest, is patient with them. He shows that same care and patience with us as we go through our lives of faith.

RCIA welcomes the unbaptized as well as those baptized in other Christian traditions. Stewardship Thought

"What profit would there be for one to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?"-Matthew 16:26

St. Francis of Assisi said, "Remember, you are what you are in the eyes of God, and nothing else. "We often forget this stewardship wisdom when we spend all of our time, talent and treasure to gain more of the world's riches. We need to set our priorities based on God's values and not the values of the material world.

For the Military

If you would like to add a loved one that is in active duty in the military, please call the rectory with their name and branch of service and we will add them to a list of military members to pray for.
Thank you.
Almighty & eternal God, protect these men & women as they discharge their duties. Protect them with the shield of your strength and keep them safe from all evil and harm. May the power of your love enable them to return home in safety, that with all who love them, they may ever praise you for your loving care.
We ask this through Christ our Lord, Amen.
