Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

When someone doesn't follow through on what they said they would do, it can affect other people. In sports, music, or theater, if we do not carry out the commitment to practice, we will not perform well during the event and might let our group down. In school, if you don't' do your part on a group assignment, you leave the others in the group scrambling to finish. These examples are not that different from our Gospel passage today and could be used in a modern retelling of this parable. The simple message of the parable Jesus presents in the Gospel passage today about out action reflecting our true beliefs is a challenge directed at the elders and the chief priests. These groups of people are learned in the law and in the faith. They are supposed to be the ones to whom others look as an example of a holy person. Jesus knows, however, that they may say the right thing, but they do not always live that same way. So, he asks them the question about which son did the father's will. They answer that the one who ultimately did the work did the father's will. They know the right answer in theory but living that out is another story. In contrast, those people are usually looked down upon (like tax collectors and prostitutes) have chosen to repent of their sins and believe, acting out the faith that they now profess. Jesus us essentially calling the elders and the chief priests' hypocrites. We might think about the saying "actions speak louder than words" in this situation and in the situations young people today might find themselves in. When our faith is not deeply rooted in our hearts, our actions don't always reflect what we profess to believe. We need to have a stable foundation of faith so that when we are confronted with different situations, we can act as Christ would. We aren't perfect, so there will be times when we choose the wrong path. But today's Gospel gives us hope. Jesus' words at the end, noting that the elders didn't change their ways even after a second witness of the faith, reminds us that we still have time to change our ways. God is always giving us opportunities to come closer to himself and follow him. Even when we mess up, we can go to the sacrament of reconciliation and be strengthened to return to God and change our ways. Even though God keeps giving us these opportunities to change, it is important to not put it off. The time to live a life that obeys the father's will is now. It is not later when you graduate, when you have a career, or when you are close to death. We don't know when we will be called to heaven, so we should make the most of every opportunity to follow the path of Jesus. Our Christian witness in our words and actions can inspire others to do the same!

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (R.C.I.A.) is a process by which a person prepares to become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. The process is one of inquiry, evangelization, prayer, study and conversion, leading to one's entrance into the church through Baptism, Confirmation and the Eucharist. RCIA welcomes the unbaptized as well as those baptized in other Christian traditions. RCIA also welcomes those who have been baptized Catholic but who have not completed their sacraments of Eucharist or Confirmation.

Anyone who is interested in participating in this program is asked to call the Rectory now and speak to Deacon Frank.

Random Act of Kindness

Spend Time with an Older Person. Have a grandparent, aunt, uncle or neighbor who sometimes needs a bit of assistance accomplishing some tasks? Of course, visiting them can and should happen any time of the year. But it might be good to take International Day of Older Persons as an extra reminder of how important it is. Check in on them, see if they could use any help, or just sit with them awhile to keep them company. Many people forget how much of a wealth of knowledge older people can be when they are allowed to tell their stories, share experiences and simply be heard. It's like taking a page out of living history! So listen, learn and celebrate the day with them.

SAVE THE DATE!

Mr. Wilkinson will be here at St. Bernard's for a book signing Sunday, November 5th, 2023.
Ed will be greeting parishioners in the Church vestibule following the 8:30 a.m., 10:00 a.m. and 11:30 Masses. The book is a snapshot of Catholic life in Brooklyn and Queens over the past 50 years. It contains some of Ed's favorite photographs, as well as historically significant photos that he took during his career with The Tablet.
He hopes readers will enjoy it as much as he did putting the book together!

Stewardship Thought

"Do nothing out of selfishness; rather, humbly regard others as more important than yourselves…" Philippians 2:3

Pride and ego are hard things to control. We see how others act or dress and think we are superior to them. We idolize our own self-image. But, if we truly believe everything is a gift from God, we recognize all the people that God has put in our lives as gifts! We are grateful for how they enrich our lives. Pray every day for the people in your life: your family, your friends and those who make you angry.
