Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The beginning of the Gospel today shows us that not everyone liked the message Jesus was preaching. We have seen how Jesus challenges the religious leaders, their teachings, and their personal behaviors. We hear how the Pharisees were trying to catch him saying something that would incriminate him or outrage his disciples. They rely on the common law of the day to form their deceitful question of where Jesus' loyalty lies. The Pharisees were hoping that they were about to put Jesus in that type of situation but of course, Jesus knew their plan and was ready for them. So, they asked him, should they pay their census taxes to Caesar or not? What they are really asking him is who his allegiance is to. Does Jesus think he is above the law? Is his Father in heaven above the law? Will he say that Caesar holds no power over him? The way he answers this question will have direct implications for him and his followers and may bring him imprisonment and possibly death. Sometimes these big decisions can weigh on us. We want to do the right thing, but we are not exactly sure how to accomplish that. Maybe we need to look at the bigger picture. Jesus' response to the question gives us helpful hints about how to handle these situations. Jesus knows that they have coins on them, so he asks to see one. He simply notes that since Caesar's head is on the coin, it must belong to him, so they are to pay to Caesar what is his. The Pharisees are not able to argue with his answer. Rather than getting upset about being tricked and responding in anger or in a hurry, Jesus engages them in dialogue. They themselves admit that it is Caesar's coin, so they can't really argue with Jesus' final answer. Jesus' interaction in today's Gospel also teaches us to find a balance in the way we live as Christians in the world. Throughout his ministry, Jesus teaches us that we are called to be good stewards of what we have and upright citizens in the community in which we live. While our citizenship in heaven is more valuable than our citizenship on earth, we must still treat our communities with their due respect. Jesus' words in today's Gospel call out attention to the important truth that that just because we pay our taxes to a government, it does not mean that we give them our soul. In fact, we are able to live according to worldly governance because God gives us the strength to live in community with one another. May we remember that our relationship with God inspires us to be responsible citizens in our society. When we give our hearts and souls to God, we want to share that with others.

YEAR OF THE SUNDAY MASS

This year in St. Bernard's is the Year of the Sunday Mass. Since 2017, the diocese of Brooklyn has seen 37% decrease in Mass attendance. This has happened in our parish too. The Sunday Eucharist is the most important event each week in our parish. We hear God's word.
We receive Jesus himself in Communion.
We are sent into the world to live as disciples.
We all know people on our block and in our family that are not coming to Mass. Pray for them and give them an invitation to come with you. Share WHY you come.
We will be trying different strategies this year. One is using social media better.
We now have an Instagram page. Check it out: St.bernardchurch.
We'll be telling you more in the coming weeks

Please pray for all our young people receiving Confirmation on Saturday, October 28th at St. Bernard Church with Bishop Paul R. Sanchez, D.D.

Perform a Random Act of Kindness

National Mother-in-Law Day takes place on the fourth Sunday in October — on October 22 this year. Mothers-in-law have a special place in our lives. Whether they're helping with the kids or supporting us when our own parents are unavailable, these "second moms" are always there to help, contribute, and, sometimes, lovingly criticize.

Bringing two families together isn't easy. On National Mother-in-Law Day, take some time to appreciate the mothers-in-law in your life, whether you have one of your own or know some women who are mothers-in-law themselves. If you have married kids of your own, take this special day to treat yourself!

Stewardship Thought

"Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's. - Matthew 22:21

Everything we are and everything we have belongs to God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given each of us. All God is asking is that we give back a portion of what He gave us. This is the essence of Stewardship. God should be our first priority in everything. All else comes second, especially our money.
