Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Fourth Sunday of Lent

This Sunday's Gospel contains one of the most well-known verses in all of Scripture, John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believed in him might not perish but might have eternal life." This Sunday is also called Laetare Sunday. "Laetare" is Latin for "rejoice!" The word "Laetare" comes from the entrance antiphon that begins Mass. In the middle of the Lenten season, we are invited to have hope and rejoice in the Good News (this is why the priest might wear a rose-colored garment today). Our Gospel reading today speaks to that joy- God is love and his love for us, even in our fallen and sinful ways, is so great that he gives us his only-begotten Son. At the beginning of today's Gospel, we hear a reference to an Old Testament story about Moses and a serpent. When the Israelites were in the desert, God sent serpents among them because of their incessant complaining against him even though he was the one who had freed them form their slavery in Egypt! God offered them a chance to be healed if they looked at the mounted bronze serpent that Moses held up before them. Yes, the people were punished for their complaints, but God does not leave them in their punishment. God offers mercy, a way to be restored. This is what we are offered in the person of Jesus Christ, a way to be restored to a relationship with God. The Israelites suffered under Egyptian slavery and today we suffer greatly under the slavery of sin. What is alarming is that after their deliverance, the Israelites grew tired and impatient with God, wishing they had not left Egypt. Turning to our own experience, we know that God can save us from sin, but we hear in the Gospel that some people prefer darkness to light. We are being invited to reject the darkness of sin and live in the light and truth of Jesus Christ. But just as the Israelites who has been bitten had to choose to look upon the bronze serpent to be healed, we too, in our sinfulness, must choose to look upon Jesus lifted up on the cross for our salvation.

Stewardship Thought

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son…"
- John 3:16

Of all the wonderful gifts that God has given to us, the gift of His own Son is truly the greatest. How can we ever thank God for a gift like that? God does not ask us to sacrifice our own precious firstborn, but He does ask that we are grateful and generous with our God-given gifts. That we nurture and develop our gifts, and in gratitude, generously give back with increase our time in prayer, our talent in charitable works and our treasure to support the mission and ministry of our parish and greater Church.
