Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word Fifth Sunday of Lent

Our Gospel today begins with some people who are in Jerusalem for Passover wanting to meet Jesus. One interesting part of this is that they are Greeks, who were typically outsiders to Judaism. Yet the reading says that they are there for Passover, so we understand these people were probably recent converts to Judaism. Instead of approaching Jesus directly, they go to Philip and Andrew asking to see Jesus. Sometimes it can be uncomfortable to meet a new person, especially one who is so important. Having a friend introduce us is an easy way to bridge the gap. Maybe these Greeks didn't know Philip and Andrew specifically, but the Greek names of these disciples suggest that they were open to interacting with Greeks and that would have made them ideal people to go to find out more about Jesus. Sharing our faith with others can be intimidating. We don't want them to feel like we are judging them and we don't want to ruin our relationship with them. We might be nervous that we won't say the right thing. But we can look to Philip in today's reading for a model of what to do. First, he went to talk with another disciple about it. If someone comes to us, seeking information on Jesus, it is okay to get help from other disciples! Then, and most importantly, they bring the question to Jesus. We can always turn to Jesus for help when we are sharing the Good News with others. Instead of giving a nice answer about God's love and mercy, Jesus' response to Philip and Andrew's news that some people wanted to see him is to talk about the upcoming death. He uses the image of wheat dying and then producing fruit- think about plants that are dormant over winter and then bloom in spring- to tell them about his death and resurrection. He shares with them that this is the hard truth about disciples, too-they must be willing to give up their lives for the sake of God's glory and the hope of eternal life.

Stewardship Thought

"I will be their God and they shall be my people."

- Jeremiah 31:33

What does it mean to be God's people? It means we recognize that everything we have and everything we are belongs to God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given us. It means we are willing to use our gifts and our lives to care for our family, our neighbors and for people we don't know, just as God cares for each of us.

Perform a Random Act of Kindness

When surrounded by family and friends there’s no better feeling than that of giving. The giving of stories, memories, food, drink and more all add to the day and a random act of kindness is something indelibly linked to the story of Saint Patrick. During his years of service, Saint Patrick toured the shores of Ireland sharing the gift of the natural shamrock whilst teaching the message of the Holy Trinity: The Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit.
