Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
The Ascension of the Lord

HE PRESENTED HIMSELF ALIVE TO THEM

About 15 years ago Catholics across the country were asked the question, "Do you believe that you can have a personal relationship with Jesus?" Seventy percent said 'no'. Yet the acknowledgement that we can have a personal relationship with Jesus is as old as the Church itself. When we think of the apostles, saints, missionaries, and martyrs they did not spend their lives spreading the Gospel, oftentimes at great personal cost, because of a concept.
This seventy percent of Catholics who say we cannot have a personal relationship with our Lord is noteworthy because that is the same percentage that does not believe in the Real Presence of our Lord in the Eucharist, and the same percentage of Catholics who rarely, if ever, participate in Mass on the Sunday Sabbath. The idea of our Lord becoming Bread for us makes no sense if we see Jesus as a figure in history; nor does the Mass make sense if it is seen as just an obligation or a ritual. We can only acknowledge Christ in the Eucharist and Christ present in the Mass if we equally acknowledge that we can indeed have that personal relationship with him. The Eucharist is an encounter with the Lord in Sacrament and the Mass is an encounter with the Lord in Word and Sacrament. If we do not believe in the possibility of a personal relationship with Jesus then the encounter becomes nothing more than a concept that can be dismissed. I write this by way of the words we hear on the Feast of the Ascension in the first reading from the Acts of the Apostles, "He presented Himself alive to them." There are three words we need to unpack here; otherwise, these few words can go right by us. First Jesus says that He "presented". He made Himself known personally to the Apostles. They did not have to travel high and low to find the Lord. He revealed Himself to them in their midst. Then He speaks about "Himself". He is showing that He truly with them as much as He was prior to His death and Resurrection. Thirdly he presents Himself "alive" to them. He is not a figure of history, nor a plastic statue, but as alive as the apostles were, yet even more so. It was due to this encounter that the Apostles could go forth, empowered by the Holy Spirit, to proclaim the Good News, not as a nice message, but of the Messenger Himself, Christ the Lord.
The call of this week's Ascension celebration is to come to a deeper understanding that our Lord continues to 'present Himself alive' to all of us. It is up to us to receive Him. Sometimes this reception is difficult to come by because we simply are not aware of its reality, that a personal relationship with the Lord in the heart of the Church is possible by God's grace and our response to grace. Oftentimes, too, this reception is something we choose to reject. It is easy to reject an idea or a historical figure who we really do not need to have much to do with. Once though we acknowledge that Jesus presents Himself alive to us, everything changes. The Word of God in Sacred Scripture is a message our Lord speaks to us in our own lives in this moment. The Mass in truly an encounter with the Lord who enters into us with His very Body and Blood in Real Presence. Prayer is not just words said or favors sought but rather a relationship of encounter. God's will is not a burden but our "life and our peace." Self-sacrifice for the sake of Christian fidelity and the Kingdom is not a burden but the road to peace. Death is not an end of what is but the beginning of what will be when God becomes all and all in us. The encounter with Jesus alive changes everything. That cannot be stressed enough. Are we willing to be changed into the new creation God invites us to become that like God Himself we too can become the love of God in the world as we encounter the Lord alive?
Fr. John Maduri

Stewardship Thought

"I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end." (REVELATIONS 22:13)

This is a reminder of how we should live our lives 24 hours a day, 7 days a week – putting God first in all that we do. Not only when I am at Mass and parish activities, but when I am in the world, at work, or at school. Living gratefully and generously is an intentional lifestyle. Every decision you make either moves you closer to God or farther away. Choose wisely!
