Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

AN ATTENTIVE EAR IS THE JOY OF THE WISE

Have you ever had the experience of knowing someone whom people will make comments like, "when you are with him or her they treat you like you are the only person in the room." Conversely, most of us have had experiences of feeling like the people we are talking with are distracted with their minds and eyes going in different directions. We have likely done the same to others. The first is considered a gift while the second is seen as a distraction and even rude though in most cases it is unintentional as there are so many things and people that are vying for our attention. Like any gift the attentive ear must be nurtured; otherwise, we can miss out on so much. It is all too easy to do so in a climate of constant noise and chatter. The opposite of being able to hear is being deaf. Then there is that uncomfortable middle ground of being hard of hearing: voices are heard but not easily, sounds are recognized but not always words. For many Christians and people at large "hearing" the voice of God has become not only difficult but even seen as an impossibility. While the first is true the latter is false. The issue is not that God is not "speaking" but that we are not listening, or to quote the words of today's first reading from Sirach, we do not have an "attentive ear". While there are certainly people who are deaf to God's "voice" and "blind" to his presence, many are more of the hard of hearing type. We know God is there but we cannot discern his "voice" nor "hear" His words clearly. At this point two questions can be asked, "how can we hear God's voice?" and "where do we hear God's voice?" The first question is the more difficult one to answer. It requires something many are not used to or comfortable with and that is solitude and silence. Our Lord has instructed us that when we pray, we are to go into our room. The room that Jesus speaks of is not a physical room enclosed by four walls and a door. Rather it is the door of the heart. The saints of the Church, oftentimes busy with the care of the sick and the suffering, the poor and abandoned, the education of the young, and the sometimes burden of community life, and much more, nevertheless learned the art of finding solitude and silence within. In that interior silence God spoke clearly, not with words but with inspirations rooted in truth, charity and mercy. The "where" of God's voice is actually much easier to come by. The first place we "hear" God's "voice" is in Sacred Scripture. For too many the Bible has become a collection of stories and essays that we hear at Mass on Sunday and then leave and go about our lives. This is the hardness of hearing that infects so many Christians. The words of Sacred Scripture are not just readings that the lector reads at Mass or that we read occasionally. These are words to be proclaimed and lived. They are God speaking to us His will and His invitation to a new life. Our Lord has said that whoever hears Him hears the Father. It is God speaking to us not only collectively but personally. This requires the attentive ear so that we are not distracted by so many other voices and words but are wise instead to hear what God has to say since his words are life and peace. It requires a level of discipline and commitment, a deep desire to know God, and a trust in His promise that those who do so will find joy. In the first reading, and again in the Gospel from St. Luke, God is inviting us to the wisdom and joy of humility. The fact is that for all the wealth, power, influence, honors and so on that too many strive for, drowning out God Himself, it will all one day end. If we have an attentive ear this Sunday, we will hear God calling us to seek what has eternal value, that all the fame and fortune in the world will still lead the proud and the arrogant to the same end as the lowly, the poor and forgotten. In the 1940s movie, "Between Two Worlds", the "Examiner" who helps those who have died to come to grips with their lives on earth and their eternal destinies, is challenged by a man who in the eyes of the world had it all. He mocks the examiner by reminding him that he was nothing more than a minister on earth. He then goes on to tell the examiner that he was a powerful man who wielded great influence in financial affairs, was both feared and admired for founding a prestigious business, able to get anything and anyone he wanted. After he finished his tirade the examiner askes him one simple question, "well, where is it?" As the man's face drops, he is led to the hell he not only made for others on earth but that he made for himself for eternity. One with an attentive ear will hear this as the "voice" of God calling us to be wise men and women who seeks the good of others, practice charity and justice, embrace the sacred truths of our faith, and live with an eye always set on the Kingdom of Heaven. Every time we read or hear Sacred Scripture, we should be doing the same attentive listening, carrying words we have heard with us throughout the day and allowing them (God's words) to make of us a new creation who see with the eyes of faith.
Fr. John Maduri

Help Wanted

We are in need of someone who would like to lead our St. Bernard Good Neighbors. They are a group of seniors here at St. Bernard's. It is a group of men & women in their "golden years", 50 years of age and above, established in the 70's & 80's to give them an opportunity to socialize in our Parish Community! It also eases the loneliness of those living alone. They meet once a week on Tuesday's from 1:30pm-4:00pm in the Parish Hall. Responsibilities include setting up coffee & tea for the members, starting their time together with a prayer, doing a 50/50 raffle, and cleaning up the kitchen at the end of the meeting time. If you are interested please call Sandra at the rectory at 718.763.5533.

We would like to thank Tina Moore for her 10 years of dedication leading the Good Neighbors group here at St. Bernard's.

MISSION APPEAL
September 6th & 7th

Fr. Francis Asagba, the Judicial Vicar of the Diocese of Brooklyn, will be visiting our parish for a mission appeal during the weekend of September 6 & 7. He will speak on behalf of the Marian Sisters of Eucharistic Love in Ghana. The Sisters provide a home for children with special needs who are often rejected or even ritually killed by their families and communities due to superstitious beliefs that associate congenital disabilities with witchcraft. In addition to providing care, the Sisters also focus on raising awareness and educating the community. To learn more about the work of the sisters visit: www.SisterStansChildren.org

Your generous donations will directly impact on the lives of these children by providing them with a safe home and education. Please make all checks for this appeal payable to St. Bernard RC Church, noting "2025 Mission Appeal" in the memo.

Stewardship Thought

"Rather, when you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you."

LUKE 14:13-14

One of the main principles of living a stewardship lifestyle is to give without expecting anything in return. This is difficult for some to comprehend in our "consumerist" culture that we live in. This is even difficult for many parish communities that have become heavily dependent on parish fundraising events to support the mission and ministry of their local parish. Generally speaking, at a parish fundraiser, you pay money and receive something in return, it's just a financial transaction. This is opposed to our parish offertory at Holy Mass, where you unite your sacrifice with Jesus, renewing our covenant relationship with Him.

Thank you. Almighty & eternal God, protect these men & women as they discharge their duties. Protect them with the shield of your strength and keep them safe from all evil and harm.
