Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Fifth Sunday of Ordinary Time

HEAR THIS

There is an old expression that most of us have heard many times, "there are none so blind as they who will not see." We can add to that, "there are none so deaf as those who will not hear." In the context of Sacred Scripture, as the former chooses to be blind so the latter chooses to be deaf. Two weeks ago, we saw the tragic assassination of Charlie Kirk in Utah. Whether people agreed with his belief system or not, most were horrified at the violence against a young husband and father. Almost as horrific as the assassination itself were those, including some news people and teachers, who were pleased, and even celebrated, his killing. Without making judgment on peoples' mental state or the state of their souls, at the very least we can say that these people choose to be deaf to anyone who believes differently than them. When people choose to be blind and deaf, we are all defeated, including those who make these choices. We hear our Lord in this Sunday's first reading from the prophet Amos speaking clearly and even boldly: "Hear this." It is not a suggestion but a vivid command. It is not 'please pay attention' or 'please hear me out', but an uncompromising "Hear this." Why is our Lord speaking with such authority? The answer is two-fold, and we glean this also from today's Gospel from St. Luke. When we are indifferent to the sufferings of others and show little empathy for those in need, we not only diminish their humanity and their human dignity, we also diminish our own. We are created by God not be an isolation but to be a communion. God Himself is a communion of three Persons in one God-head. The love of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is of such perfection that the three Persons could not but be One. Notice how I stated we are not to be an isolation but to be a communion. Being in communion with one another is not something we simply do but it is who we are as human beings, particularly as Christian human beings. Being in isolation is not just an act of absenting ourselves from the community but it is an act of rejection of our very God-created nature. This rejection will always have negative consequences for the individual and the wider community as it breeds inner turmoil in the former and brings injustice to the latter. Our Lord tells us that everything He speaks He has heard from the Father for He and the Father are One. We are also told that our Lord's words are "words of life and peace" and that He reveals to us the truths that will make us truly free. This being the case, it makes eminent sense that the Lord God would proclaim so strongly, "Hear this." God wants us to have the fulness of life, to have a peace this world cannot possibly give nor take away, to know the freedom of the sons and daughters of God by knowing the sacred truths He has revealed to us in Christ, through the Spirit and the Church. In the Gospel reading our Lord is offering "true wealth." This wealth is not something; it is someone, His very self and all that He has to offer us so that we can begin to glimpse the reality of heaven in this life as we grow in true charity, love, and justice towards one another bounded by God's truth which is life and peace. Conversely, those who seek "dishonest wealth" in whatever form it may take will lose the little they have for in the end the "dishonest wealth" of fame, fortune, power, and the like can never satisfy the deepest hunger of the human heart for life and love. This is why our Lord calls it "dishonest wealth" since it promises what it can never deliver. As always, our Lord is calling us to listen to Him. He also calls us to listen to Him where He speaks most clearly, in Sacred Scripture and in the Church. To those who accept this invitation to "true wealth" our Lord promises even more. In this we find our truest selves, for as St. Augustine famously wrote, "our hearts are restless until they rest in You."

Order of Christian Initiation of Adults

The Order of Christian Initiation of Adults (O.C.I.A.) is a process by which a person prepares to become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. The process is one of inquiry, evangelization, prayer, study and conversion, leading to one's entrance into the church through Baptism, Confirmation and the Eucharist. OCIA welcomes the unbaptized as well as those baptized in other Christian traditions. OCIA also welcomes those who have been baptized Catholic but who have not completed their sacraments of Eucharist or Confirmation. Anyone who is interested in participating in this program is asked to call the Rectory now and speak to Deacon Frank.

Music Ministry Notes

Have you ever wanted to join our Choir but did not have the time? Now is your chance! Consider joining our Summer Choir which will sing at the 11am Sunday Mass throughout the Summer. We will rehearse every Sunday 20 minutes before the 11am Mass. This is a great opportunity to serve our Parish with your time and talent during the slower summer months. If interested, please see our Director of Music Ernest Buckley after Mass or call: 718.809.7666.

Stewardship Thought

"No servant can serve two masters. He will hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon (wealth)." LUKE 16:13

Jesus knows that for many of us, God and money run "neck and neck" as top priority. Is money a "god" that you put before God? Giving money to support the Church and other charity is a pillar of our faith, just like attending Mass every Sunday and participating in parish ministry. Giving money frees us from becoming a slave to money. It increases our dependence on God and our trust that God will provide all that we need.
