Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word
Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

THE YOUNG MAY LEAD

This past Easter season saw a significant number of articles either in the Catholic press, online sites, and secular newspapers which noted the sharp rise in converts to the Catholic Church this year. What made everyone take notice from Europe to Canada to the United States, was not just the tens of thousands of converts, but that the great majority of the converts were young adults between college age through the 30s with the largest number in the 18-25 years old range. More surprising was that young men outpaced young women in this year's group of converts. This past Easter Vigil our parish saw five converts to the Catholic Faith and nine others fully initiated after having fallen away. Most of these men and women fell into the age groups noted above. There were two main reasons noted for this increase. One was that many young adults had bought into a secular irreligious society's proclamation of what brings happiness – and they found it dissatisfying and themselves disillusioned. Notably, the young adult converts rejected Protestantism's liberal ideas that oftentimes mimic secular society's ideologies. A second reason was that they looked at their parents and/or their parents' generation and did not like what they saw. Rather than seeing great levels of happiness they found much unhappiness, anxiety, anger and regret. They are looking for something different and better than the lies that many of other generations have fallen for these past few decades. This Sunday September 7th Pope Leo XIV is canonizing two young people who lived among us in the 20th century. The teenager Carlo Acutis, whom I have written about previously, has helped lead a Eucharistic revival, especially among young people, who recognize and are drawn to the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist. While large numbers of cradle Catholics, sometimes referred to as "cultural Catholics" have abandoned the Mass and Eucharistic faith, the young who are embracing the Eucharist do so out of a chosen and lived faith after seeking for truth. On this same day, Pope Leo is canonizing Pier Giorgio Frassati, a young Italian from Turin, Italy. An avid sportsman and mountain climber, no one knew until after his death at age 24, the extent of his outreach to the poor and abandoned. At his funeral thousands of people whom he helped in his short life lined the streets to pray for him and to pay tribute for his extraordinary living of the social teachings of the Gospel and the Church. As Carlo has ignited a Eucharistic revival among a growing number of the young, Pier Giorgio is igniting youth's concern with, and desire for, true charity and justice in our world. If we look closely, we will see how both of these young people, even with their different gifts and emphasis, are very much inter-related. The Eucharist Christ whom we receive is not meant to be a stagnant gift but is meant to call us to become Eucharist, to become Christ, to everyone we meet. Pier Giorgio shows us that a key way to do this is through works of charity and justice which finds its source and summit in the Eucharist. Each flow from the other and into the other. A growing number of young people, even with all of the conveniences and distractions of modern life, are seeking for something beyond what they can see and touch. They intuitively know there is something more. While there are certainly those who will bury their hunger in all sorts of other things, these young people from Carlo Acutis to Pier Giorgio Frassati to the young converts this past Easter, are showing us the way to something greater, a life centered on Christ, particularly in the Eucharist, and geared toward true charity and justice where we love not just in words or through feelings, but in truth. May these young people continue to lead us.
Fr. John Maduri

MISSION APPEAL
September 6th & 7th

Fr. Francis Asagba, the Judicial Vicar of the Diocese of Brooklyn, will be visiting our parish for a mission appeal during the weekend of September 6 & 7. He will speak on behalf of the Marian Sisters of Eucharistic Love in Ghana. The Sisters provide a home for children with special needs who are often rejected or even ritually killed by their families and communities due to superstitious beliefs that associate congenital disabilities with witchcraft. In addition to providing care, the Sisters also focus on raising awareness and educating the community. To learn more about the work of the sisters visit: www.SisterStansChildren.org

Your generous donations will directly impact on the lives of these children by providing them with a safe home and education. Please make all checks for this appeal payable to St. Bernard RC Church, noting "2025 Mission Appeal" in the memo.

Help Wanted

We are in need of someone who would like to lead our St. Bernard Good Neighbors. They are a group of seniors here at St. Bernard's. It is a group of men & women in their "golden years", 50 years of age and above, established in the 70's & 80's to give them an opportunity to socialize in our Parish Community! It also eases the loneliness of those living alone. They meet once a week on Tuesday's from 1:30pm-4:00pm in the Parish Hall. Responsibilities include setting up coffee & tea for the members, starting their time together with a prayer, doing a 50/50 raffle, and cleaning up the kitchen at the end of the meeting time. If you are interested please call Sandra at the rectory at 718.763.5533.

We would like to thank Tina Moore for her 10 years of dedication leading the Good Neighbors group here at St. Bernard's.

Stewardship Thought

"Everyone of you who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple." LUKE 14:33

When we first hear this statement, it seems that Jesus is making an unrealistic demand upon us. How can we renounce all of our possessions? We need them to live. However, what we must renounce is the belief that they belong to us. Everything that we have belongs to God alone. All of our resources are entrusted to us not only for our own use, but also so that we can help others. Once we renounce the idea that we possess or are entitled to anything, it is much easier to share the many gifts that God has given us. Then we truly are His Disciples.

Thank you. Almighty & eternal God, protect these men & women as they discharge their duties. Protect them with the shield of your strength and keep them safe from all evil and harm. May the power of your love enable them to return home in safety, that with all who love them, they may ever praise you for your loving care.
