Stewardship Thought

"To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good."

1 CORINTHIANS 12:7

To receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit you must open your heart and invite Him in! Ask the Holy Spirit to guide your thoughts, words and actions every day! Be grateful for all the gifts God has given you! Regardless of our individual circumstances, God has given all of us many blessings. What we do with those gifts is our gift back to God! By generously sharing everything we have and everything we are, we become more "God-centered" and less "self-centered" and our lives truly reflect God's light, love and mercy.

IN UNION WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT

The gift of the Holy Spirit which permeates the life of the Church and us her members is, to use a secular term, "the gift that keeps on giving. We have understood these gifts through two millennia as wisdom (the ability to enter into the mystery of God and discern what God is calling us to do); understanding (the ability to penetrate the mysteries of faith and the deep things of God); counsel (the ability to make right judgments and decisions, or prudence); fortitude (the courage to live and proclaim one's faith and to remain strong in the face of life's difficulties); knowledge (the ability to grasp the teachings of the Lord in Sacred Scripture and the Church); piety (reverential devotion before God); and fear of the Lord (a stance of awe and wonder before God and a desire to not offend God). As I mentioned to our Confirmation candidates, like everything else in the life and faith of the Church, none of this is magic. All of these gifts require a few things in order to receive them in their fulness. First and foremost is repentance. We need to keep in mind that repentance is radically different from presumption. Those who fall into the sin of presumption take on an attitude of doing whatever they want and living however they choose and expecting God to forgive them. As St. John the Evangelist, who was by far the closest to the Lord of all the Apostles, and who knew the mind of Christ better than anyone, states in one of his letters. "If we repent, we will receive mercy." The word "if" is the essential word. Repentance means a conversion of life. Equally so, we can say "if we repent, we will receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit." A lack of repentance is not only about the possible loss of eternal salvation, but also a tragic loss of the gifts which can and will make one's life infinitely more peaceful and fruitful. Bearing the fruits of faith, hope, love, and truth are what every Christian should be about. The second is a sincere asking of the gift. A "Come Holy Spirit" that expresses itself from the depths on one's soul stirs the Spirit and moves the Spirit into action. As with our Lord, the Holy Spirit will only come to those who invite Him. The Spirit never forces acceptance on anyone. Third is a necessary response to the gift of the Holy Spirit. Repentance, conversion of life, charity, justice, integrity, fidelity to the teachings of Sacred Scripture and the Church, living the Commandments and the law of love, and trusting in the mercy of God when we fail through human weakness are among the most important ways that we can open ourselves to the gifts of the Holy Spirit. The more radically we live these the greater the impact of the Spirit on our lives. The coming of the Holy Spirit is also the birth of the Church. It is the promised Spirit who would lead the Church into all truth. Again, we have to desire to seek and find the truth. Only then can we receive the Holy Spirit in the fulness of the Spirit's power. We have all been clothed with fire and power through the Sacraments. May we be wise to seek those gifts the Spirit has prepared for us so that we can live life in, for, and through Christ.
