Stewardship Thought

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son…"

JOHN 3:16

Is your love conditional? Is there a price others have to pay to receive your love and forgiveness? Are you generous with your time, skills, money and possessions? If you give someone something, do you expect something in return? Do you give your time freely or do you "fit it in" when it's convenient for you? God desires a personal relationship with us so much that He gave us His Son, unconditionally! Pray for a grateful and generous heart.

DO COME ALONG IN OUR COMPANY

If you have been following my bulletin reflections and/or my homilies you may have noted, that on several occasions, I have mentioned that God is not a rude God. He does not force Himself onto us or into our lives. He certainly reaches out constantly to get our attention but we have the choice and free will to accept His call or reject it. As I have noted in the past, most people who say they do not believe in God, or have doubts about God's existence, have most often done little to nothing to invite the Lord into their lives. As I have also noted, it is not about a passing, "come into my life Lord," but a real desire to enter into communion with God whom Jesus reveals to us as Father. On this Sunday, as we celebrate the Holy Trinity, the first reading from the Book of Exodus finds Moses extending an invitation to God, "Do come along in our company." Moses has the humility to recognize that he cannot complete the mission God gave him without the help of the Lord. His example of humility should be a guide for all of us as pride can and does stifle the invitation. An insistence on having things our own way or living life on our terms is the pride of life that stifles the invitation and makes that communion with God difficult, if not impossible. You have heard me sound the theme of repentance any number of times these past few months. We hear this implied once again in this same reading from Exodus, "If I find favor with you, O Lord." Moses recognizes that He can only invite the Lord to come along in his company once he has found favor with God. There is much room here for self-deception on our part and Moses was certainly aware of that. Knowing the law of the Lord, he sought to be faithful to that law and covenant. We can easily deceive ourselves by convincing ourselves that we "find favor" with God even though we are breaking His laws and covenant. Our Lord Jesus Christ gave us the Sacred Scriptures and His Church to teach us what it means to be in union with Him and the Father by fidelity to His law and covenant. Anything other than that makes our conviction that we are in God's favor unrealistic. Notice how this requires union with God. We are not just hanging onto of a distant God somewhere out there. We are called to union of will and love with God. What is interesting about Moses is that he had a clear and definite awe and reverence before God yet at the same time He could be quite familiar with God. He had a human and spiritual maturity to not allow one to cancel out the other. To do so would be to damage that unity with the God Who is One, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Each Person of the Trinity also stands in awe and reverence before the Other yet they can call each other Father and Son. The Trinity gives us the example of what this oneness should look like, one in love, purpose and will. Moses, who never would have heard of a Triune God, nevertheless lives the Trinitarian life of union. His union with God expresses itself in his living of the union of awe and reverence with loving familiarity; a fidelity to the people God called him to lead despite their oftentimes rebellious hearts, and his devotion to God's commandments and the covenant. Moses, like all of us, had his flaws and even doubts. Nevertheless, he never allowed that to discourage him or dissuade him from the journey of union with God and others. His perseverance in the face of many challenges and difficulties, His confident trust in God's love and mercy, and his unswerving, if at times imperfect, efforts to do God's will in all things, allowed him to live the Trinitarian life of oneness with God and others. Moses, like us, did not need a great theological understanding of the Trinity. He simply understood that if he strove, by responding to God's grace, to be faithful to God and His people and love them "in spirit and in truth", that the union He so sought would God would be His, imperfectly in this life, but clearly and forever in the life to come.

Please feel free to invite those who have been away from our parish to attend Mass with you. If there is anyone you know of that is upset with the church and feels that my speaking to them would be of help, please let me know so that I may speak with them. Fr. Maduri.

Consider Leaving a Legacy of Faith
Remember Our Parish in Your Will
When you next update your estate plans, please consider continuing your lifelong stewardship by leaving a bequest to St. Bernard. For more information please see Fr. Maduri.
