Stewardship Thought

"Because there is one bread, we, who are many, are one body, for we all partake of the one bread."
1 CORINTHIANS 10:17

As disciples of Jesus, we are called to lead holy lives and invite others to join us. We are called to be fed and to feed others. Living a stewardship lifestyle, being grateful and generous with our gifts, serves a twofold purpose. One, it helps build God's kingdom here on earth. Two, it helps us strengthen each other's relationship with God the Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. It becomes our roadmap to Heaven. Let's help each other get there!

A EUCHARISTIC PEOPLE

This Sunday's feast of Corpus Christi is one of the major feasts of the Church. For some it may raise the question, 'why are we celebrating this feast of the Body and Blood of the Lord when we celebrate Mass and Eucharist every day?' The answer is simple. Like so much else, we can easily fall into routines. We participate in Mass every Sunday, holy days of obligation, and for some daily. It is not a surprise that we can forget the awesomeness and majesty of the gift we are being given. So too, there are a great percentage of Catholics who do not believe the Real Presence of our Lord in the Eucharist; hence so many absenting themselves from Sunday Mass even though our Lord called us to celebrate Eucharist in remembrance of Him. It is without doubt a difficult thing for our finite minds to understand how mere bread and wine become the Body and Blood of the second Person of the Trinity. Yet this faith was the faith of the Christian Church for 1500 years until the Protestant reformation. For those Christian denominations that do not accept the Real Presence, an unsettling question has to be raised and answered, "Did the Holy Spirit, who promises to lead the Church into all truth, get it wrong and allow the Church to fall into such a grave error for 1500 years?" If we say that the entire Christian edifice collapses. The reality is that the Church, from the Apostolic Period, has acknowledged, believed, and celebrated the Eucharist as truly the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ. St. Ignatius of Antioch, who was a disciple of the Apostle St. John the Evangelist, wrote extensively on the Eucharist being the Body and Blood of our Lord. He also admonished that we "should not absent ourselves from the assembly" which is the Mass. This is from one who knew and was taught by one of our Lord's Apostles. Why then is this gift so important, why did our Lord leave us the gift, and what does it matter in our own faith journey? Eucharist: the word comes from the Greek, eucharistia, which means thanksgiving. It acknowledges that at the Last Supper Jesus gave thanks over the soon to be consecrated bread and wine. The call to Mass and the Eucharist is a call to us to also give thanks for the gift of the Lord's presence. Real Presence: this expression speaks for itself. Our Lord is really present in the Eucharist. This Presence speaks of love and intimacy. Jesus does not reside in some far-off place far, far away. He is present in our tabernacles, and is intimately present to us when we receive Him. We show our love for the Lord and the gift when we are present to Him and "do this in remembrance of (Him)." Communion: this word speaks of the fact that the Lord did not establish only a horizontal relationship between Himself and the individual. As God is a communion of Three Persons, we too are called to communion with Him and with each other. The Eucharist is the bond that ties us together as members of the one body of Christ, which is the Church. Food For the Journey: this expression refers to the fact that we all need nourishment. Whenever we travel, especially long distances, we take provisions with us, especially food. Food and drink sustain us as we journey the road ahead. Similarly, we also need spiritual food for the journey of life, particularly the journey to God Himself and the Kingdom of Heaven. Just like any long road ahead, there can be potholes, detours, storms and the like. The journey of faith is also at times not easy. There are doubts, temptations, illness, sorrow and loss, and for some even persecution. The Eucharist is the Food that sustained the Saints and will sustain us if we receive with faith and reverence. On a final note, I would encourage all of us to examine our behavior in our churches. While many come early or stay after Mass to prayerfully bring themselves into the presence of God, most notably in the tabernacle, it must be said that others come to socialize to the point of forgetting where they are, whom they should be conversing with in the tabernacle, and distracting others from their prayer time with the Eucharistic Lord. We need to once again develop a sense of awe and reverence before the Eucharist. In this awe and reverence the Lord can make Himself more fully known and we can become more fully nourished by His Presence.

Consider Leaving a Legacy of Faith
Remember Our Parish in Your Will
